

March Morning Watch

In the news we read things about what people have done. Some of these are good, and some are bad, but how do we decide who is good and who is bad? A person may look good on the outside, but does that mean they really are good? The most important thing to know is what God says. How does God characterize the good and the bad? Usually, a good person is a likeable person. His or her life will attract other good people. Is your life one that would attract others? Is it good and upright?

Begin each day with prayer asking God to teach you, to open your eyes, to examine your heart and your actions.

1. Read the selection from Proverbs.
2. Then in a notebook make two columns with the following headings. Fill in each column with the characteristics covered in the passage.
3. Answer the following questions on another sheet of paper:
  - Which of these characteristics do you see in your life now?
  - Which of these do you need to see in your life more often?
  - How can you get them into your daily life?
